Custom programs for organizations

More nimble, adaptable and collaborative teams. Stronger leaders, problem solvers and communicators. And an organization that's ready for the disruptive challenges ahead. If these are your strategic priorities, we'll work with you to develop a custom program that bridges current gaps in skills and expertise, builds new potential and accelerates progress toward long-term goals.

Transform your organization or professional association

For nearly two decades, we've developed custom-designed programs in collaboration with clients across the spectrum of industries and sectors, from Starbucks and TD Bank Group to Canada Post, SickKids Foundation and the Government of Ontario - to name just a few.

We start by connecting you with one of our leading faculty members, who assesses your organization's needs and tailors program content to your unique strategic and business challenges. Then we develop and deliver your custom program - on the Rotman campus or at your preferred venue - taking care of all the logistics while your team focuses on expanding their skills, gaining new insights and working together more effectively to achieve sustainable impact.
